Dr. Ralph Carter Calls for Moratorium COVID-19 Vaccines and for their exclusion from North Carolina childhood vaccine schedule

Raeford, North Carolina - At Tuesday night's meeting (February 20, 2024) of the Rockfish Community Volunteer Board, Dr. Ralph Carter, an orthopedic surgeon from Laurinburg who is running for North Carolina House District 48, seconds the calls for a global moratorium on COVID-19 vaccines.

Dr. Carter stated, "I'm calling on the government to suspend manufacture and marketing of the COVID-19 vaccines." Further clarifying and extending his position, he also calls on the North Carolina Department of Health and Human Services to reject inclusion of these genetic injections from the North Carolina childhood vaccine schedule.

He is adding his voice to a growing chorus of experts who call for withdrawal of these products, including Dr. Joseph Ladapo, the Surgeon General of Florida, and Dr. Peter McCullough, world-renowned cardiologist and epidemiologist.

"There is mounting evidence that not only are these vaccines ineffective, but they are also unsafe," said Dr. Carter. "Even the captured CDC's Voluntary Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System (VAERS) - an inadequate post-marketing monitoring system which dramatically underreports injuries and deaths - demonstrates that these are the most dangerous 'vaccines' ever reported in that system. It would clearly be absurd to risk giving them to our children."

Dr. Carter spoke out against the government interfering with life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness by denying citizens their private property rights to their own bodies. "The sovereignty of one's own person - which includes mind, body, and soul - is implicit in the inalienable rights identified in our national and state founding documents. No government, no employer, no potentate, can tell you that you must undergo any invasive procedure.”
